Hatch and Skill Accelerator

Davis College: Davis College, based in Toledo, Ohio, is a private two-year career-training college that offers academic courses across a wide spectrum of career specialties including the fields of business, medical, education, engineering, and data science. It offer course-work flexibility to ensure program success as well as externship opportunities that provide our students with real-world skills prior to graduation. It also has several transfer pathway agreements with four-year universities in the US that pave the way for students to gain admission while being able to transfer their course credits. Davis College offers collaborations with international colleges and universities for a more global learning experience through its mission of internationalization.

EduGlobal College, located in Vancouver, British Columbia, specializes in English language for Academic Purposes (EAP) programs (also known as English as a Second Language, or ESL, programs) aimed at helping international students acquire advanced competencies in academic English that will be necessary for them to complete their degree programs.

In tandem with its EAP program, EduGlobal offers first-year university courses as well as a Master's Academic Preparation Program to help prepare international students who have completed a bachelor's degree and who aspire to pursue graduate studies at a Canadian university. EduGlobal is approved by The Private Training Institutions Branch (PTIB) of the Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Training in the Province of British Columbia, Canada.

As testimony to the effectiveness of its programs, EduGlobal College recently entered an agreement with Algoma University, located in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada, that establishes a seamless pathway for students to complete their baccalaureate degrees and graduate certificates at Algoma University's Brampton and Sault Ste. Marie campuses. Algoma University is a public university located in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada that specializes in liberal arts, sciences, management and professional degree programs. More information about EduGlobal's pathway program with Algoma University can be found at <https://eduglobalcollege.com>

Global Collaboration and Enablement

EduGlobal College has collaborated with Algoma University ("Algoma") in Canada to create a transfer pathway for our students to achieve academic degrees at Algoma. Algoma University is a teaching-focused and student-centered post-secondary institution specializing in liberal arts, sciences, management, and professional degree programs with a particular focus on current education needs. Algoma is a public university located in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada.

The International Undergraduate Pathway Program (iUPP) at EduGlobal College offers a combination of content-based English language courses and foundational academic courses that help prepare international students to become effective communicators and collaborators and build a strong foundation in the learning modalities at Canadian universities. In addition, students will develop academic literacy skills that include:

- Reading, writing, speaking, and listening
- Visual literacy
- Collaborative learning
- Critical thinking
- Technology

I LASTLY

The iUPP courses are designed to increase student confidence and encourage them to read and listen critically, with consideration towards the viewpoint, bias, and relevance of texts in an English learning environment. Students will learn to evaluate claims, consider multiple perspectives, and synthesize and communicate information confidently and clearly.

iUPP is a unique eight-month-long educational opportunity for international students to earn up to 30 undergraduate academic credits while fulfilling the general English language admission requirement at Algoma University. At EduGlobal, students can study post-secondary courses that can earn transferable university credits while honing their language, academic and social skills in a diverse, personal and nourishing environment.
